Hancock County School District's new administration building.

BY CASSANDRA FAVRE
STAFF WRITER

The construction of the Hancock County School District's new administration building is now complete and staff will soon be moving in. The $2.2 million building was made possible by the passage of a $16.5 million bond, which voters approved in March 2019. The 7,000 square foot building sits on a 15-acre piece of land, located at 18375 Hwy. 603, Kiln next to the Hancock County Emergency Operations Center. Judd Brooke donated the land the district. "I've worked with the school board on some of the 16th section land and I knew what a good school board it was and what good leadership the school district had and I got to know Mr. De-deaux," Brooke said at last year's groundbreaking. "It (the property) looked to me like it was to be held without bond until a preliminary hearing next week for the Feb. 1 shooting death of Hancock County Sheriff's Lt. Michael Boutte

Sr. Officers of the Mississippi Bureau of Investigation on Tuesday charged Joseph Michael Rohrbacker, 30, with capital murder in Boutte's death. "You have the right to a preliminary hearing to determine whether there is reasonable cause that a crime has been committed and that you committed it," Favre told Rohrbacker during his initial appearance in Hancock County Court on Thursday. Favre had ordered extra security for the court proceeding. Rohrbacker was escorted into the courtroom shackled and outfitted with a bullet-proof vest. Favre said attorney Frank P. Wittmann would be appointed as Rohrbacker's counsel. Rohrbacker seemed confused when the judge asked him some basic questions, and said he wasn't sure of his own address, but his wife should know it. Favre informed him that since it was a capital murder case — which could carry a "penalty of life in prison with our

Waveland approves intent to bond

BY CASSANDRA FAVRE

Last week, the Waveland Board of Mayor and Aldermen approved a resolution declaring its intent to issue a general obligation bond in a principal amount not to exceed $2.5 million. According to the motion, the funds would be used for "constructing, improving or paving streets, sidewalks, driveways, parkways, walkways or public parking facilities, and purchasing land therefore; purchasing land for parks and public playgrounds, and improving, equipping and adorning the same, including the constructing, repairing, and equipping of other recreational facilities." a wonderful place for the administration building and I was in a position where I could donate it. And I feel like supporting the school district is one of the most important things I could do as a citizen in this county.”

The building has a total of 17 offices, a board room, work room, and a conference room.

There is also an integrated audio visual system in the board room and throughout the building.

There is a 60-kilowatt rooftop mounted solar array capable of 76,000 kWh per year, with an estimated annual savings of $10,000. The building’s lighting system utilizes 100 percent LED fixtures.

There are about 20 parking spaces in the front and back of the building.

“We’re real excited,” Hancock County School District Superintendent Alan Dedeaux said Monday. “Everyone in the office is excited to get to their office in the new building, to get it ready, and to make it their home away from home.”

Dedeaux said he is also excited for the community.

“It’s just been something that has been needed for a long, long time,” he said. “The money, we feel, is well spent.”

Dedeaux said the administration was housed in its former location at 17304 Why. 603 for more than 20 years. That building, he said, is owned by Hancock County.

Up until a couple of years ago, the county superintendent was elected, Assistant Superintendent Dr. Rick Saucier said, and so the board provided the space. Effective Jan. 1, 2020, the Hancock County School Board is required to appoint the superintendent.

“So now that it’s not elected, that’s kind of where all this (new administrative building construction) came about,” he said.

Dedeaux said that the county did not tell the district it needed to move into its office.

“Most counties had their offices supplied by the board of supervisors,” he said. “We’re like all the other superintendents now, appointed.”

Dedeaux said that he hopes the new administration building will also provide a “comfortable” place for parents.

“A place they feel welcome,” he said. “The community is the make-up of our school. Without the community, without the community’s support, it wouldn’t work. You’ve got to have everybody working together. Schools working with the community, the community working with the schools, business working with the schools. All of that has to come into play to be a successful school district.”

Dedeaux also stressed the importance of student input and keeping them engaged in the education process.

“That’s why were the 11th rated school district in the state because of everybody working together, community, schools, it’s teamwork,” Dedeaux said. “If we’re not working together, it’s not going to happen, you’re not going to get the best for your students. That’s why we’re here. It’s all about the students. We want to make sure that they get the things they need to be successful in life.”

Dedeaux said that future plans for the property may include the construction of an early childhood education center.

“Hopefully, this could be the hub of the activity for education in Hancock County,” he said.

A ribbon cutting and open house for the new building will be announced at a future date.

The next board meeting will be held in the new building on April 1 at 5:30 p.m.

"I think we all are looking for a little bit of normalcy, and I'm really pleased to get the parade back to Waveland and Coleman Avenue," Smith said last week. "I'm happy we can continue this long-standing tradition, but do it in a safe manner."

This year's route traveled more than four miles in order to give the spectators enough room to social distance from each other.
"I can't believe the turn out today," WCA President AJ Andres said Sunday.
He thanked the other members of the WCA, along with Smith, the Waveland Police Department, the Hancock County Sheriff's Office and Waveland Public Works for helping get the parade organized and keeping it safe.

Hancock NAACP to unveil Valena C. Jones mural

SEA COAST ECHO

The Hancock County NAACP will host a ceremony at 2 p.m. this Sunday, March 28, at Martin Luther King Park in Bay St. Louis to unveil a mural of the late Valena C. Jones.

The mural, painted by local artist Marian Glaser, is part of the NAACP's "Black Wall of Excellence," depicting local historic figures who have had a tremendous impact on Bay St. Louis, particularly its African American community.

"We really take for granted that the children have role models to look up to," Hancock County NAACP President Gregory Barabino said earlier this year when the first of three murals honoring local heroes went up at the park — that one representing the late Coach Willie Ezekiel Bradley, Jr.

Last month, the group unveiled Glaser's mural of the late Chief Douglas Williams, the city's first black police chief.

without parole or death” — he would be held without bond, at least until the March 25 hearing.

Wittmann asked Favre to require the Harrison County jail staff to ensure Rohrbacker gets his required medication, which he said has not yet been administered.

Boutte was responding to an emergency disturbance call at Rohrbacker’s residence on Earl Ladner Road and had just exited his vehicle when the suspect — described by family members as schizophrenic and with impaired mental faculties — allegedly opened fire on the deputy with a shotgun. A second deputy who arrived on-scene after Boutte exchanged gunfire with Rohrbacker, wounding him.

Rohrbacker was airlifted to a Louisiana hospital, where he had remained, recovering from his wounds, until MBI picked him up on Tuesday and extradited him to the Harrison County Adult Detention Facility.

The MBI, led by MSG Jason Gazzo, is leading the investigation, since it involves the death of a Hancock County sheriff’s official.

“We’re just happy he’s being held on no bond, and we’ll see him again at the preliminary hearing next week,”

Hancock County Sheriff Ricky Adam said after the initial appearance Thursday.

Adam said that even though his office is not in charge of the investigation, he plans to attend every one of the court proceedings in the case.

“It’s one of our people — one of our deputies — and we owe it to him and everyone else to show support for our organization,” Adam said. “We’ll follow it every step of the way.”

Adam said last month that Boutte’s death “has rocked this community. He was well thought of. ... There’s been an outpouring of support for him and his family and for us here at the sheriff’s office. It’s really touching. ... “Mike was an incredible deputy and more so a fine person. He was a mentor to our younger deputies and I know he will be greatly missed by his peers. You never saw him without a smile or a positive attitude. I can’t begin to describe the heart break we are all experiencing right now.”

Two Slidell residents arrested for separate DUI accidents in Old Town BSL

BY GEOFF BELCHER
GENERAL MANAGER

Two Slidell residents were arrested last Sunday in separate alleged drunk-driving accidents that occurred in Old Town Bay St. Louis.

The first occurred at around midnight Saturday, March 13.

Officers of “the Bay St. Louis Police Department arrested Dylan Colwell, a 23-year-old male of Slidell, and charged him with driving under the influence and possession of a controlled substance,” Bay Police Chief Gary Ponthieux Jr. said in a statement issued Wednesday. Colwell was also charged with one count of leaving the scene of an accident, jail records show.

Ponthieux said that at approximately midnight, “Officers responded to a call of a vehicle that hit several parked vehicles near South Beach Boulevard and Main Street and had fled the scene. Officers located the suspect vehicle, a 2017 Dodge Charger, with assistance of a witness at the end of Quail Way.”

Dylan Colwell

Upon arresting Colwell, Ponthieux said, officers also seized approximately one gram of suspected marijuana from the vehicle.

Colwell was transported to the Hancock County Jail, where he was released later on Sunday under a $2,500 bond set by Municipal Court Judge Stephen Maggio.

A May 7 court date has been scheduled in the case.

The other incident occurred at approximately 8:20 p.m. that Sunday, when officers arrested

Angela Pursley

50-year-old Slidell resident Angela Pursley.

“Officers responded to North Beach Boulevard and State Street for a single-vehicle accident,” Ponthieux said. “Officers observed a 2006 Saturn Vue crashed into the outside railing of the 200 North Beach restaurant. Pursley was identified as the driver and arrested for driving under the influence.”

She was charged with DUI (second offense), disorderly conduct and no proof of insurance, Ponthieux said. She was released on March 19 on $3,000 in bonds set by Judge Maggio, jail records show.

Make up thy mind

Personal responsibility is a term I've heard thrown around a LOT lately, especially when it comes to deciding whether or not to implement or loosen some of the COVID-19 guidelines.

In the beginning of the pandemic, I agree, that a lot of the measures were pretty extreme, but science is an ever-evolving thing. The more the medical experts know about a particular disease, the better they will be able to prescribe guidelines, medicine, etc.

However, I do think that measures such as masks, social distancing, vaccines, and lowered number of crowds are helpful when it comes to slowing the spread and also allow for the economy to continue rolling. Do I think these measures are 100 percent effective? Nope. Do I think it's better to err on the side of the caution? Yep.

But, when it comes to this "everyone is responsible for their own health and safety" thing, I can't say I've been impressed with peoples' efforts.

In an article on devel-opgoodhabits.com, author Connie Stemmle states that when one has a "sense of personal responsibility, it means you are willing to accept and live by society's established standards of individual behavior. When these expected standards aren't met, someone with personal responsibility doesn't seek others to blame, rather they're able to maturely respond to the presented challenges themselves and take any blame for their actions."

The pandemic has reminded me of those awful group projects in high school. Four or five students assigned a particular topic and then only half would put in the work.

"The problem with ducking out on personal responsibility, whether it's simply due to laziness or you're completely overwhelmed with the magnitude of the mistake, it ultimately leads to a multitude of failures," Stemmle writes. "You're failing your team, you're failing your own credibility, and you're failing to take the opportunity to grow as a person."

Now, when I also think of personal responsibility, does that not also extend to a person's own medical bills?

I've seen and covered countless fundraising efforts for people who are trying to pay their medical bills and/or other bills during a trying time.

How come that attitude associated with personal responsibility does not apply here? Is it the community's responsibility to pay for their medical or other such bills? I mean, make up your minds.

What's really sad, is that fundraising efforts for medical expenses is a necessity, even with health insurance and employment.

MS House Weekly Summary -- Week of March 15

This was the eleventh week of the 2021 Legislative Session. Because it is late in the session, much of the week was spent deciding whether or not to concur with any changes made to House bills by the Senate or to invite conference on those bills. In conference, representatives and senators work together to finalize the details of each bill before they are sent to the governor. Included in the bills being sent to conference are most of the revenue and appropriations bills from both the House and Senate, which will decide the state's budget.

Several bills were passed concurring with changes made in the Senate, including House Bill 852, which came through the House earlier this session. The bill will provide $1,000 raises for teachers and teacher's assistants in Mississippi public schools. HB 852 will now be sent to the governor for his signature.

Last week, both Medicaid technical bills died on the calendar in each house.

The Senate and House passed Senate Concurrent Resolution 535 on Tuesday afternoon suspending the rules and resurrecting both bills (HB 1008 and SB 2799). House Bill 1008 came back before the House, and the bill has been sent to conference.

Next week as the session begins to wind down, legislators will spend the majority of their time in conference committees ironing out the final details of bills that were sent to conference.

These conference committees will then have to file reports before the end of session.

Poison Prevention Week

Poison Prevention Week is March 21-27, 2021. The third week in March each year is nationally recognized to highlight the dangers of poisonings and how to prevent them.

Over 2.1 million poisonings are responded to each year by the 55 Poison Control Centers across the United States. More than 92 percent of these poisonings occur at home. The majority of non-fatal poisonings occur in children younger than 6 years old. You have to be extra aware in times of stress or when family activities are taking place. This is a common time for poisonings to occur.

The first step in preventing unintentional poisoning is to keep medications and common household chemicals out of sight and out of reach of children. You should store medications, cleaners, and chemicals in locked cabinets and on higher shelves. Special locks and safety latches are available for cabinets and drawers.

If there are young children in your home, always ask your pharmacist for child-proof containers. One should never refer to medication as candy and don't make a game of taking medication. You should not let children play with a medication container, even if it is empty. You should teach children to ask an adult before putting anything into their mouths and since children like to imitate adults, avoid taking medications in front of them.

Never store chemicals or cleaning products in unmarked containers or food and beverage containers. There are many colorful drinking products on the market and each year thousands of adults and children mistake poisonous chemicals for what they thought were harmless drinks of lemonade or juice. One such chemical, anti-freeze, resembles some of the drinks on the shelves today because of its sweet taste and its lovely color.

There are a number of indoor and outdoor plants that can be poisonous also. Check with your local library for books on poisonous plants or your plant nursery for help with identifying what may be harmful.

Some pharmacies stock poison first aid kits. These kits contain syrup of ipecac, activated charcoal, and Epsom salts. You would use these products only after seeking professional advice as to whether to induce vomiting or not. NEVER treat your child unless you have spoken to a poison control center, your physician, or hospital emergency room first.

The number to the Poison Control Center is 1.800.222.1222. For more information, go to www.poisonhelp.hrsa.gov.

I've written numerous stories about families whose children are born with rare and incurable diseases. It's heartbreaking and awe-inspiring at the same time.

In the majority of cases, one of the parents must quit their job in order to care for the child. So there is one loss of income and no way to balance out the added costs of treatments and equipment necessary for the child.

Sure, it's easy to throw a quick donation at the family. That's nice and all, but does it really fix what is wrong with our healthcare system? Not at all.

A lot of families are one medical emergency from the poorhouse.

After my emergency gallbladder surgery, I was soon laid off from a job. But I still had to pay that medical bill, among the other bills I was responsible for. Sure, I had the meager unemployment and I also worked as a substitute teacher to help make ends meet while I looked for a job, but it wasn't enough and thank goodness I could defer my student loans during both the times I was laid-off due to no fault of my own.

And job hunting itself is a nightmare. If you're not in a position to move out of state, then you're left with the options where you live. I went to college, saddled myself with student loan debt, and was told a myriad of stories about the income I could expect to make and the opportunities that would be available. It's all a bunch of bull.

Sometimes, when applying to jobs online, you won't hear anything at all, one way or the other, even when you repeatedly email. Other times, the company is often just posting the job listing because they have to, when that position has already been filled by someone already working there. Or there are the jobs that will go to someone's family member or close acquaintance first.

And those qualifications? I was 23 and just out of school. The only experience I had was working at a dry cleaners since I was 17. How are we expected to get that first three-to-five years experience if employers won't hire you?

I often think that people online have no idea what it means to struggle. Their commentary on people's problems are alarmingly tone-deaf and downright ignorant. They tell people to get a job, get health insurance, blah blah, as if it as easy as snapping your fingers.

There are also programs that friends will create to cook meals for people going through medical treatments or after the loss of a loved one. Where are those cries of personal responsibility?

Regardless of the reason for the need for meals, there is a problem with hunger in America.

According to FeedingAmerica.org, the USDA reported that “more than 35 million people in the United States struggled with hunger in 2019.” As a result of the COVID-19 pandemic, that number may reach 42 million.

“Households with children are more likely to experience food insecurity,” the website states. “Before the coronavirus pandemic, more than 10 million children live in food-insecure households. Every community in the country is home to families who struggle with food insecurity including rural and suburban communities. Many households that experience food insecurity do not qualify for federal nutrition programs and need to rely on their local food banks and other hunger-relief organizations for support.”

I think it would be safe to assume that people who do not qualify for federal nutrition programs have employment, but are they making enough? There are house notes to pay, utility bills, bills for the children, regular doctor visits, etc. Some people work two, even three jobs to make ends meet.

If I added a person to my own health insurance plan, I would basically be working to ensure their health coverage, with little to none left over for other bills.

According to census.gov's 2019 statistics, the median household income in Mississippi is $45,081; the per capita (mean income computed for every man, woman, and child in a particular group, including those living in group quarters) income in past 12 months is $24,369; and the persons in poverty is 19.6 percent. The percentage of people under the age of 65 without health insurance is 15.4 percent.

See, I don't have a problem with fundraising efforts, food pantries, and anything else designed to help struggling families. My problem mostly lies in the fact that these things have to exist. There are hard working people out there, but sometimes the bills get overwhelming, the children might have a medical emergency, and so on and on.

And mostly the problem I have with the personal responsibility comments, is that they are made from some of the same people who will host and donate to fundraising efforts, or those who even serve in elected positions where it is their responsibility to provide things like roads, law enforcement, fire services, etc., for their tax-paying constituents.

If you can help people with the responsibility of other's own medical bills, funeral expenses, and such, then you can certainly help contribute to slowing the spread of COVID-19. And whether or not you will survive it is irrelevant, it's always been about the most vulnerable, like my father, who might not.

Thing is, these masks won't be around forever, but things like inadequate access to affordable healthcare and food insecurity will still be around and need to be addressed. So quit whining about wearing a mask, social distancing, etc., etc., and start thinking about solutions to some of these pressing problems.

Wondering about people you don't know

BY GARY ANDREWS

When I was stationed in Vietnam my workplace was located close to the hospital. Even though I wasn't directly involved in the fighting I was in a critical support organization of the brave soldiers on the battlefield. I prayed and the people I worked with prayed daily for these soldiers for their safe return to base. None of us were from the same hometown however we all had one common bond and that was the Lord Jesus. I can't say I ever remember any one of them saying they didn't know the Lord or they didn't want to participate in our prayer vigils. On many occasions I would stand on the outside of our building and watch the medivacs as they would bring the wounded in from the field. If I could see medics running out with a gurney I knew that the soldier brought in had a chance to live. If I saw the helicopter land and no one ran out, the soldier was rolled on to the ground and laid there until someone could retrieve his body.

This bothered me immensely and I would pray that this man knew Jesus and that he was in heaven singing praises to Jesus. Many times I would see the doctors, nurses, corpsmen, and others pray as these individuals came in whether they had a chance to live or they had gone on to meet our maker. We were in a war zone and no one had problems with the name of Jesus, not one. Why is it today we have problems with our military chaplains saying the name of Jesus? Political correctness has ruined much of life because some have objected and the minority are ruling the majority. All of us need to remember who is ultimately in charge and who will have the last word and it is not the political correct politicians. I wonder what all the soldiers in the military would tell them if they asked about prayer and Jesus. Yes, I know that a few will speak up and say there is no God, or their religion doesn't recognize Jesus as our Lord and Savior, but why does the majority not rule anymore? The Word of God tells us in 1 Peter 2:24, "...all flesh is as grass, and all the glory of man as the flower of the grass. The grass withers, and its flower falls away, but the word of the Lord endures forever." How about you? Do you wonder about your neighbors, friends, and/or co-workers? Do you pray for them? In the world today one might tell you that there is no Jesus but if you read the Word of God you can tell them that it is the same today as it was in the early days and it has never changed and it never will. What can they tell you about their life or their belief? All of us have to stand firm and let the Lord God use us in his way and time. Prayer: Lord thank you allowing me the opportunity to serve this great country through the military and the opportunity of serving you in my everyday life. I pray that I can be a good soldier for you and win others for your service. Amen.

Examples of previous construction experience that illustrate the proposed team's qualifications for this contract (weight value of 5)
Ability to design and construct aircraft hangar facilities at or under budget (weight value of 5)
Capacity for timely completion of projects (weight value of 4)
Key personnel's participation in past projects (weight value of 4)

The score for each criterion will be multiplied by its weight factor, which indicates the importance of each criterion as it relates to this contract.
For selection criteria without an assigned weight value, the score shall be "pass/fail", with a "fail" rating possibly resulting in the disqualification of the applicant prior to the rating process.
Following the evaluation of the Statement of Qualifications received by the Sponsor's selection committee, the top three (3) applicants will be placed on a short list. It shall be the option of the Sponsor, if the sponsor or selection committee feels further evaluation of the qualified short list applicants is necessary to determine the top-ranked firm (or firm's), to issue a Request for Proposals (RFP) to all short-listed applicants. The RFP issued to all short-listed applicants shall contain instructions on the format (such as written proposal, interview, presentation, etc.) to be used in submitting proposals and information on how the proposals will be evaluated.
Following the final evaluation of qualified applicants, the Sponsor will place the applicants in a final ranking based on qualifications. Proposals should be mailed or handdelivered to Hancock County Board of Supervisors Secretary, 854 Highway 90 Suite A Bay St. Louis, Mississippi 39520 or by electronic bid submission at www.centralbidding.com. Notice is further given that the Hancock County Board of Supervisors will, at www.centralbidding.com, at 10:00 A.M. Central Time and ending at approximately 10:30 A.M., unless extended by Anti-Bid Sniping, on Friday, April 9th, 2021, accept electronic bids through a reverse auction for ONE (1) MOBILE COMMAND CENTER for the Hancock County Sheriff's Office, according to specifications on file with the Purchase Clerk of the Board and online at www.centralbidding.com. Bidders may download official documents from Central Bidding at www.centralbidding.com, and Reverse Auction bids can be submitted through Central Bidding at www.centralbidding.com. Any questions regarding the Reverse Auction process should be directed to Central Bidding at 1-225-810-4814.

The Board of Supervisors reserves the right, in its sole discretion, to select the bid deemed to be the most advantageous to Hancock County.
In acquiring said Mobile Command Center, the Board of Supervisors expressly reserves the right to accept or reject any or all bids or any part of any or all bids based on a lowest and best bid determination in the best interest of the County. The Board of Supervisors may consider the following factors in determining the award: date of delivery, services, previous performance and experience of the bidder, transportation cost, cost of operation, quality, maintenance and warranty.
The following specifications outline the minimum requirements for a custom manufactured Command Center for use by the Hancock County Sheriff's Office. The mobile command center will be divided into two (2) distinct areas separated by a pocket door. Area one will have a minimum of four (4) work stations with overhead storage cabinets and an entrance door. This area will also have an electronics rack, galley area and tall storage. Area two will have a minimum of a conference table that will seat a minimum of seven (7) people. It will also have a flat floor slide out with overflow seating for 4 people. While all efforts have been made to fully detail the construction materials methods and equipment required to build this vehicle it remains the vendor's responsibility to choose components that will provide maximum performance, service life and safety and not just meet the minimum requirements.
No drawings will be provided! It is in the best interest of Hancock County Sheriff's Office to evaluate each vendor's configuration concepts based on the description above and the information included throughout these specifications. Due to the complexity of the conversion, vendors must provide detailed specifications. A general statement or letter stating that the vendor meets all specifications will not be acceptable. Additionally, photo copies of this specification will not be an accepted response. For ease of evaluation, all submitted specifications must follow the format of this document. Failure to meet these requirements may be deemed as nonresponsive.

To ensure Hancock County Sheriff's Office a source of service and parts over the anticipated life of the vehicle potential vendors must have established a permanency in the industry for a minimum of twenty (20) years. Reference vehicles must have fully automatic vehicle automation systems with logic capabilities and a flush floor slide out room extension. Vendors must include with their proposal a list of six (6) vehicles of similar (or greater) size and complexity delivered within the last eighteen (18) month period. Each list must include Department name, contact name, contact telephone number, contact email, date of delivery and vehicle photos. Hancock County Sheriff's Office will be contacting references, if information on provided lists is incorrect or named contacts are unreachable vendors response will be deemed non-responsive. No exceptions.

Note: References of a subcontractor or subsidiary will not be acceptable. All references must be for vehicles built and delivered by vendor.
The ability to have the Command Center fully operational in a minimum amount of time is of utmost importance, therefore a fully integrated vehicle automation system is required. The vehicle automation system must include an auto set up mode that will enable the command center to be fully operational/fully deployed in no more than ten minutes time by a single operator. This includes but is not limited to: generator startup, interior and exterior lighting powered on, HVAC systems powered on, galley equipment powered on, audio/video systems powered on, slide out deployed, stabilizer system deployed, radio systems powered on, computer network equipment powered on, battery charging system powered on, and awning extended. Complete details for the vehicle automation system are listed throughout the specifications.
Hancock County Sheriff's Office reserves the option to request, and the vendor shall agree to provide, an on-site demonstration and evaluation of a vehicle that has a fully integrated vehicle automation system prior to award. The demonstrator unit shall be made available at no additional cost to Hancock County Sheriff's Office.
There will be no down payment, prepayments or progress payments. No exceptions.

Shore Thing: A BIG small town

Shore Thing Fishing Report

By Capt. Sonny
Schindler

Mrs Linda Emmel brought some of her buddies for a birthday trip recently, and lemme tell you, it was a TRIP! The fishing was off the charts good, but that wasn't the only thing amazing about our time together.

I don't ever remember not knowing Mrs Linda. Her son Scott, my brother and I were very close growing up(still are). Until that day, I'd never met(in person) her friends Gwen, and Mc-Laurin aka "Laurin". The red fish kept all of our conversations brief. Just about every shrimp they threw out got bit. In between netting, tagging, and or photographing fish we tried our best to hear each other's stories.

I eventually learned the birthday girl Gwen, was from Hattiesburg. Not very shocking, we fish a ton of folks from the Hub City. What was very shocking, was that we were neighbors in the late 90's when I was "studying" at USM! It's probably for the best we didn't meet back then...

Laurin caught a tagged redfish midway through our trip. While we were documenting it, I learned her last name was Stennis. Her Grandpaw was John C. Stennis and yes, she is the same artist that designed "The Stennis Flag". We also learned, that we both share numerous mutual friends around town.

Our trip flew by, and the conversations were almost as good as the fishing. They kept a pile of reds, and tagged/released close to 20 smaller reds. The ladies took the Birthday, and some of their catch to The Blind Tiger for lunch. Heck of a Birthday party!

Mrs Linda has always been one of my favorite people to fish with. I always enjoy all the stories from our adventures over the years. Meeting new people is always a treat too. Getting to meet a new friend on a fishing trip just makes the day even better.

I believe Mrs Gwen summed it up perfectly, saying "Mississippi is just a big small town".

As always, have fun and be safe.

DWGAN Golfing News from January 2021

BY SHIRLEY
HALTERMAN

Tuesday, January 5th, brought our first Monthly Trophy Day for 2021. At this time of year along the Gulf Coast we are always pleased to have a fair day to play a round of golf. Thirty-two of our gals turned out to play. The first Trophy Day winners of 2021 were: LOW GROSS - Flight 1 - 1st Place winner was Therese Mauterer, 2nd Place showed a tie between Audrey Ramirez and Judy Tauzin. In Flight 2 - 1st Place was taken by Shirley Halterman, and 2nd Place by Sue Hebert. In Flight 3 - 1st Place was achieved by Ruthie O'Neill and 2nd Place by Sylvia Corban. In our Black Flight the winners were: 1st Place - Jeri Harris and 2nd Place - Mary Murray. In the LOW NET category, Flight 1 - 1st Place went to Toni Rossol and 2nd Place to Carol Gothie. In Flight 2 - 1st Place was achieved by Kathy Jones, and 2nd Place by Nancy Sislow. For Flight 3 - 1st Place showed a tie between Pattie Blackwood and Betsy Lyons with Dinah Knobloch coming in in 2nd Place. Our Black Flight winners were: Dolores Louvier in 1st Place and Carol Wyrosdick in 2nd Place. Our LOW PUTTS winners were: Flight 1 - Toni Rossol with 13 putts, Flight 2 - Shirley Halterman also with 13 putts, Flight 3 - Dinah

Knobloch with 15 putts and in the Black Flight - Delores Louvier with 16 putts. When it came to the LONGEST DRIVE, Flight 1 - Marilyn Galus, Flight 2 - Margaret Sherwood, Flight 3 - Rachel Steward and Black Flight - Carol Wyrosdick. Our CLOSEST-TO-THE-PIN winners were: Flight 1 - Therese Mauterer, Flight 2 - Kathy Jones, Flight 3 - Ruthie O'Neill, and Black Flight - Jeri Harris. The following gals scored CHIP-INS: Marilyn Galus, Marlene Gosard, Betsy Lyons and Judy Tauzin. In addition, Patti Blackwood garnered a Birdie on Hole #2. Great way to start off the New Year.

The following Tuesday, January 12th, didn't prove to be as accommodating, and we were required to cancel play for that day.

On Tuesday, January 19th, we fared much better with 29 gals coming out to play a Modified Two-Person Alternate Shot game. For this game, each gal in the two-person team tees off on each hole. The best drive is taken and the other partner plays the next shot. Shots are then alternated to the last putt. On the next hole the same format is followed. Winners are then determined by Low Net Team Scores. And our winners were: 1st Place Team = Sylvia Corban and Toni Rossol, 2nd Place Team = Susie Fontenot and Jeri Harris. In 3rd Place we had a tie between the team of Alva Kyger and Mary Murray and the team of Cheryl Saak and Judy Tauzin. Dinah Knobloch scored Chip-In on # 13. Just to clarify: You can record a Chip-In during Team Play but you may not score a Birdie during this type of play.

While we did spend a good bit of time checking the weather forecast, we did manage to get in our round on Tuesday January 26th. Thirty-two ladies braved the iffy weather to play a traditional Scramble on the Cardinal Course. Although rain was predicted, it held off until later in the afternoon and allowed us to complete our competition. The LOW GROSS winning teams were: 1st Place the Team with a score of just 39 was composed of: Kathy Jones, Ruthie O'Neill, Audrey Ramirez, and Carol Wyrosdick. 2nd Place was the team with a score of 40 was made up of: A Ghost, Mary Murray, Toni Rossol and Nancy Sislow. The 3rd Place group with a score of 41 was comprised of: Sylvia Corban, Dinah Knobloch, Therese Mauterer and Carolyn Yarbrough.

We hope you all will have a most happy & prosperous New Year. We continue to pray for removal of the Covid-19 from our world and that all of us will stay safe and healthy.

Amelie's successful audition has earned her a spot in the PRCC Singers Choir starting in the Fall Semester of 2021.

Dr. LaDonna Tyson, Director of Choirs at PRCC, said of Amelie's audition, "She had a fantastic audition today. She was confident and well-prepared in her solo and nailed the tonal memory portion of the audition. I was happy to offer her a scholarship to participate in PRCC Singers next year."

Amelie is a member of the OLA Campus Ministry, Students Against Destructive Decisions (SADD), and presently holds title as Editor-In-Chief of the Year Book Club, and Vice President of the Tri-M Music Honor Society. In addition, she was selected to participate in the Hancock Youth Leadership Academy program. Amelie has lettered in soccer, volleyball, and softball throughout her high school years at OLA.

"I am forever grateful to my chorus teacher, coach, and mentor, OLA's Chorus Director, Mrs. Jan Jarrell. She has helped me fine-tune my singing voice, and has helped me grow as a vocal artist and as an individual both socially and spiritually. It was Mrs. Jarrell that gave me the confidence and encouragement to extend my study of music after high school, and to continue to share my God given talent with others," said Amelie.

On March 1, Amelie will audition for The Voices, an acapella group at PRCC. If chosen to be a part of The Voices, she will receive an additional tuition stackable scholarship.

Honor Student Bryce Deano Nominated for The Congress of Future Medical Leaders

SEA COAST ECHO

BAY ST. LOUIS -Bryce Deana, a Sophomore at Saint Stanislaus College of Bay St. Louis served as Delegate to the Congress of Future Medical Leaders on March 20th and 21st, 2021

The Congress is an honors-only program for high school students who want to become physicians or go into medical research fields. The purpose of this event is to honor, inspire, motivate and direct the top students in the country interested in these careers, to stay true to their dream and, after the event, to provide a path, plan and resources to help them reach their goal.

Bryce's nomination was signed by Dr. Mario Capecchi, winner of the Nobel Prize in Medicine and the Science Director of the National Academy of Future Physicians and Medical Scientists to represent Saint Stanislaus based on his academic achievement, leadership potential and determination to serve humanity in the field of medicine.

During the two-day Congress, Bryce Deana joined students from across the country and hear Nobel Laureates and National Medal of Science winners talk about leading medical research; be given advice from Ivy League and top medical school deans on what to expect in medical school; witness stories told by patients who are living medical miracles; be inspired by fellow teen medical science prodigies; and learn about cutting-edge advances and the future in medicine and medical technology.

This is a crucial time in America when we need more doctors and medical scientists who are even better prepared for a future that is changing exponentially. Focused, bright and determined students like Bryce Deano are our future and he deserves all the mentoring and guidance we can give him.

The Academy offers free services and programs to students who want to become physicians or go into medical science. Some of the services and programs the Academy offers are online social networks through which future doctors and medical scientists can communicate; opportunities for students to be guided and mentored by physicians and medical students; and communications for parents and students on college acceptance and finances, skills acquisition, internships, career guidance and much more.

The National Academy of Future Physicians and Medical Scientists was founded on the belief that we must identify prospective medical talent at the earliest possible age and help these students acquire the necessary experience and skills to take them to the doorstep of this vital career. Based in Washington, D.C. and with offices in Boston, MA, the Academy was chartered as a nonpartisan, taxpaying institution to help address this crisis by working to identify, encourage and mentor students who wish to devote their lives to the service of humanity as physicians, medical scientists.
